Navy Relates Glowing Tale Of Sea Fight Near Midway

Thomas M. Tawney, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Tawney, West Middle street, was formerly pharmacist mate on the Yorktown. Several months ago he was ordered to an Atlantic coast base for duty.

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

Washington, July 15 (AP)—Japan's invasion armada ran into an American ambush in the battle of Midway, official reports disclosed today.

A communique last night gave the first detailed account of the battle and a supplemental report told how a Naval task force lay in ambush and struck hard with carrier planes when Army and Navy shore-based attacks had slowed the enemy fleet.

The great size of the armada Japan sent to assault Midway in hopeful prelude to conquest of Hawaii was disclosed for the first time—80 ships. Official records gave this result of the battle:

Sink 20 Ships

Japanese losses—20 ships sunk or damaged including four aircraft carriers sunk and three battleships hit; 275 planes destroyed, and 4,800 men killed or drowned.

American losses—the 19,900-ton aircraft carrier Yorktown put out of action, the destroyer Hammann sunk, an undisclosed number of planes destroyed, and 92 officers and 215 enlisted men lost. Loss of the destroyer and damage to an aircraft carrier had been reported previously, but this was the first time their names were given.

The immediate result of the battle was that the safety of the vital Hawaiian area, the American west coast and the Panama Canal were at least temporarily secured.

The Navy issued in exultant detail its first story of the "superb acts of devotion" mentioned by Prime Minister Churchill in Parliament July 2, when he told for the first time that from some successful attacks of Japanese carriers only one (American) aircraft returned out of ten."

Fight Without Support

One action the Navy cited was by Navy Torpedo Squadron No. 8—30 men and 15 planes led by Lieut. Cmdr. John Charles Waldron, 41, of Fort Piere, South Dakota. This squadron successfully attacked the enemy's main battle force without fighter support and in spite of blistering antiaircraft and fighter opposition. All 15 planes were lost. Only one man of the squadron, Ensign G. H. Gay, of Houston, Texas, survived.

Another deed of valor was attributed to Major Lofton R. Anderson, of Gary, Ind. During the Marines' first attack on the Japanese fleet on June 4, his scout bomber was hit and set aflame. Henderson was last seen diving his blazing craft into a smokestack of a Japanese carrier.

Outguesses Japs

After the Coral Sea victory of May 4-May 8, the Navy said, the high command decided the enemy's next thrust would be directed against some other section of America's Pacific defenses — Hawaii, Alaska, the Panama Canal or the Pacific Coast.

Consequently U. S. Naval forces were deployed along the 1,700 mile front between Midway island and the Aleutians in the North Pacific. Throughout the danger area, bases were reinforced with long-rang, land-based aircraft.

Commanders in the field reported:

Enemy sighted—At 9 a. m., Midway time, June 3, Navy patrol planes found an enemy cruiser and transport force in five huge columns about 700 miles west of Midway, coming in.

Simultaneously, a Japanese battle force of carriers and battleships was coming in from the northwest. Army fortress bombers and Navy patrol planes damaged a cruiser, a transport and probably sank and damaged other vessels in an immediate attack on the occupation force.

Midway Attacked

Battle joined—Army and Marine planes from Midway attacked the main battle force early the next day.

Sixteen Marine dive bombers got three hits on a carrier, probably the Soryu. Eleven Marine dive bombers reported two hits on a battleship. Sixteen Army heavy bombers made three hits on carriers in high level attacks.

At 6:35 a. m., soon after the American bombers had left, Midway was attacked by Japanese carrier-based bombers. Outnumbered Marine fighters and anti-aircraft guns shot down 40 enemy planes.

The enemy turns—By mid-morning the enemy had suffered only about 10 ships damaged, and the American command expected continued attack. But the Japanese changed course unobserved and both forces began to retire.

First V-Letter Received June 12

Mrs. L. M. Schantz, 24 Barlow street, is believed to be the first person in Adams county to receive a V-mail letter.

On June 12 she received such a letter from her son, Lt. Col. B. Torrey Schantz, who is located somewhere in the European war zone. The letter had been written on June 4.

In a letter following Colonel Schantz said, "Be sure to keep that first V-mail letter of mine as it has a bit of philatelic importance having been flown over the Atlantic in the first plane to carry V-mail, along with letters from General Chaney inaugurating the new service."

Schantz was promoted to the rank of lieutenant colonel on July 1.

PLUMBER FINED $25

Lawrence Smith, McSherrystown, plumber, has been fined $25 by Burgess Kinneman of Hanover, on a charge of violation of a borough ordinance which requires that all connections to the sanitary sewage system must be reported to the borough secretary's office 48 hours after the connections are made.

74 MEN LEAVE FOR U. S. SERVICE

Seventy-four Adams county men, the second largest contingent from this county, left for the war today.

Two bus loads, each bus carrying 21 men, left Gettysburg from center square a few minutes after ten o'clock this morning for New Cumberland where the men will don Army uniforms and be assigned to service at Army camps.

More than a hundred persons were present to bid farewell to the young men. There was little or no confusion. As soon as the buses parked near the First National bank the men immediately occupied seats and after acting Corporal Daniel Teeter checked the names the vehicles departed.

At New Oxford one bus load of 32 men left at ten o'clock. That contingent represents the July quota from draft board one. The contingent of 42 out of Gettysburg came from draft board two.

Countians Answer Appeal For Scrap Rubber

The above is a two-picture story of part of Adams county's response to the government's appeal for scrap rubber.

The above photograph shows part of the collection of old tires and other scrap rubber collected by C. W. Epley, Gettysburg. Mr. Epley collected fifteen tons of rubber during the special rubber-salvage period, said by O. H. Benson, chairman of the county salvage committee, to be the largest collection by an individual dealer.

The lower photo shows part of the scrap rubber collected by the Citizens Oil Company, of Gettysburg. Mr. Benson reported that the 33 tons collected by this firm represents the largest amount collected by a distributor.

Both Mr. Epley and Joseph E. Codori, manager of the Citizens Oil Company, had shipped or stored a large portion of their scrap rubber prior to the taking of the above photographs.

The above photographs represent only two instances wherein the people of this county demonstrate their spirit of Americanism and their willingness to cooperate with the government in the all-out war effort.

The total amount of scrap rubber collected here exceeds 150 tons.

LET'S FIGHT

The ghosts of war stalk the streets of Gettysburg and Galveston; Philadelphia and Phoenix; Washington and Walla Walla. The phantom spectre knows no race, creed or religion. All are stark victims of the ravages of pillage, plunder, sabotage and shooting.

Gasoline is rationed; restrictions are placed on production of household items and articles of luxury. There are rumors of an impending edict "Gasless Sundays." Fuel oil burners are being converted to coal burners. There may be a shortage of fuel oil for domestic users.

Automobiles and tires are rationed. The purchase of sugar is limited. There is a shortage of rubber. There will be other shortages before so very long.

$26,000 WILL IS FILED HERE

The will of Charles F. Bodley, late of Gettysburg, disposing of an estate estimated to be worth $26,000, has been entered to probate in the office of Register Winfield G. Horner at the court house. Personal property is valued at $25,000 and a value of $1,000 is placed on an interest Mr. Bodley held in a piece of real estate in Brooklyn, New York.

Personal belongings are left to Mr. and Mrs. John Maust, Gettysburg, in recognition of their "kindness" both before and after Mrs. Bodley's death last year. The bulk of the estate is divided between a niece of Mrs. Bodley, Mrs. Marie Jayne, Frankfort, Ohio, and a son, Dr. James W. Bodley, Memphis, Tennessee.

In the will Mr. Bodley provided specifically that no funeral services should be held for him.

The will of the late Mrs. Rosa A. Olinger, Gettysburg, also has been placed on record at the court house together with two codicils to the instrument. A son, Donald, Harrisburg, is the executor. The estate is valued at about $4,200 in real estate and personal property.

Birth Announcements

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Kump, Cashtown, announce the birth of a daughter, Joyce Ann, at the Warner hospital Tuesday.

A daughter, Donna Lee, was born at the hospital Tuesday to Mr. and Mrs. Paul Eyler, Emmitsburg.

FIRST GRANDSON

Mr. and Mrs. Irving Bierer went to Baltimore this afternoon to witness the christening of their first grandson, Stephen Bernard Bierer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel W. Bierer. The christening was to take place at 2 o'clock this afternoon in Sinai hospital. The baby was born a week ago today.

No Quarantine On County Fruit

Regulations covering the movement of Adams county fruit remain about the same as last year as far as Japanese beetle control is concerned, orchardists are told in a letter mailed today by County Agent M. T. Hartman to fruit growers.

The bill of sale showing the origin of the shipment of the fruit will pass Adams county fruit through any quarantine line, Mr. Hartman has been advised by Dr. T. N. Guyton, head entomologist at the bureau of plant industry at Harrisburg.

In the same letter Mr. Hartman suggests that growers prepare to apply a spray next week to check the summer brood of codling moths in apple orchards. A special letter on that spray will be issued within a few days, he states.

The fruit growers' association of the county has cancelled its July meeting because of "the acute labor situation, the rush of work, and the conservation of gas and rubber."

OFFICER OPENS CAMPAIGN FOR $5,000 USO FUND

Announcing the first individual contribution to the U.S.O. campaign in this county in the form of a $5 check from Major Murray B. Frazee, Camp Atterbury, Columbus, Indiana, the U.S.O. committee for Adams county advanced plans at a meeting Tuesday evening for the drive for $5,000.

M. David DeTar, who last month accepted the post of campaign manager, met with the executive group for the first time on Tuesday evening, and studied with the other officers plans for the county-wide solicitation which has been set tentatively for early fall. Dates for the drive have not yet been fixed.

$619 Donated

Mrs. Ellen Tipton Buehler, treasurer of the county committee, disclosed that more than a tenth of the $5,000 quota already has been raised. McSherrystown, only community in the county that has completed its campaign, has turned in $577.96 to the U.S.O. as compared with $69 from that community last year. A collection taken at the Littlestown baccalaureate exercises in June netted $36.26. Major Frazee's $5 gift brings the total in hand to $619.22.

A house-to-house campaign probably will be conducted here, replacing the plan used last year when contacts were made chiefly by mail.

Open Branch Units

H. B. Allen, head of the U.S.O. organization in Pennsylvania, came here from Harrisburg Tuesday evening to attend the county committee meeting. He reported that most communities in the state that have already conducted their U.S.O. drives have gone "over the top" with their campaigns to meet goals set by the state organization.

Mr. DeTar plans to set up a branch U.S.O. unit in every community of the county to handle the canvass for $5,000.

The meeting Tuesday was held at the home of Mrs. Buehler, Carlisle street, with the chairman of the county U.S.O. organization here, Dean W. E. Tilberg, presiding.

Sanders, Mrs. Earl Bowen, Mrs. Ida Hartley Sperry, Mrs. Fred Justin, Mrs. John Livengood, Mrs. Anna Plank, Miss Verna Kitzmiller, Mrs. Edith Baker, Mrs. Victor Duttera, Mrs. Eugene Groft, Miss Anna McSherry, Mrs. Edwin Ross, Mrs. Robert Deardorff, Miss Frances Stock and Miss Ruth Hemler. Nazis Hurled Back To Don; Lose 35,000

Moscow, July 15 (AP)—The Germans, stopped by a last ditch defense at the outskirts of Voronezh, have attempted to encircle the city but were repulsed on the north and hurled back on the south to the point where they crossed the Don river, Russian dispatches reported today.

The Russians said that a break-through accomplished by large numbers of fresh German troops and hundreds of tanks supported by a heavy artillery barrage had carried the invaders almost to the edge of the town before they were checked by the spirited Russian stand.

The dispatches did not give the location of the break through, but it was indicated that it occurred at the western approaches to Voronezh.

Recapture Crossing

The Russians said that in forcing the Nazis back they recaptured a small railroad crossing and in another sector applied such strong pressure that the Germans fell back across a small bridge and destroyed it.

The fighting was described as reaching the height of its fury with German losses so terrific that the Third German Motorized Infantry division, which appeared in the battle line only yesterday, was reported depleted and replaced by the new 168th Motorized division after a single day of combat.

Invasion gains in the Voronezh area were declared to have cost Germany more than 35,000 men, killed and wounded, in ten days, and the Soviet Information bureau tacitly brought up again the issue of establishment of a second front in Western Europe by indicating that the forces there are being weakened.

Aussies Will Not "Crack" Before Boche

By HARRY CROCKETT

With the British Eighth Army at El Alemein, July 14 (Delayed) (AP)—The Germans tried all day yesterday to crack the Australians on the northern front here and when the Aussies didn't crack, they tried to break through the south African positions. They lost many infantrymen and at least one tank and now they are back where they started.

The Germans attacked just before dusk on a front three miles south and southwest of El Alemein station.

The Germans had tried all through the day to wear down the Australians on the northern front and had withdrawn.

As one Australian tankman put it, "We gave them too much sharp steel."

Africans Tough, Too

The Germans obviously decided they wanted no further part of the Aussies and planned to crack through the South Africans, but they found the South Africans play just as rough.

During the afternoon some tanks attacked the South African positions in an apparent attempt to occupy the machinegunners while the German infantry removed mines from the field in front of the defenses. But these efforts were unsuccessful and many German infantrymen were killed.

Near sundown, the German tanks which had withdrawn from the Australian front regrouped and approached the South African positions under cover of heavy gunfire. They were followed by infantry.

Then the Australians came into the picture with tremendous concentrated shellfire, which accounted for at least one tank and dispersed the rest. Machinegunners and South African infantry drove off the attackers, who left many dead on the battlefield.

Call on Reserves

"The Germans are being forced to bring up reserves hurriedly from the rear to take the place of their units which have been put out of action," a communique said.

"Several divisions which have arrived from France and Belgium only a few days ago have been observed," the communique added.

"After losing 11 tanks and hundreds of officers and men, the Germans were forced to withdraw," it reported.

"In another sector, several enemy attacks were beaten off. Soviet artillery and anti-tank guns set fire to six enemy tanks."

Soviet soldiers defending the big bend country south of Boguchar, on the Don 130 miles below Voronezh, after a series of withdrawals eastward 150 miles or so from the Kharkov sector, were reported to have stopped a regiment of Nazi infantry and wiped out more than 700 of its effectives.

"Menace Is Great"

Although the Red Army counter blows in the Voronezh area were increasing in force, Soviet dispatches pointed out that there was no reason for easy optimism as to the city's fate. They said the Germans hourly were sending fresh troops across the Don to develop the battle spreading out on the east bank.

"The menace is great," said Pravda, the Communist party newspaper.

Descriptions of the battle said thousands of soldiers were fighting from behind every natural barrier and ground obstacle, while tanks charged over a battleground ablaze with fire and plumed with smoke.

German dive bombers continued attempts to break up the Red Army formations, but Russian dispatches said the Red Air force still was showing considerable strength in the whole Don valley battle area.

Resigns Position As School Teacher

Miss Margaret Bowers, Shiremanstown, formerly of Heidlersburg, has resigned her position as teacher of the Good Intent school, Straban township, to accept a position as third and fourth grade teacher in the Shiremanstown schools.

Miss Bowers graduated from Gettysburg college and qualified for grade school teaching at Shippensburg State Teachers' college. She taught in the public schools of Adams county for the last two years.

Italian Battleship May Be In Service

London, July 15 (AP)—Official British circles said today the Italians possibly had completed the 35,000-ton battleship Roma, on which work was started June 12, 1940, but it was very doubtful that a sistership, the Impero, was in commission.

A Stockholm dispatch said both vessels had joined the Italian Mediterranean fleet. The British circles said this report might have been planted by the Germans.

NAZI ADVANCE THREATENS RED FOOD SUPPLIES

Washington, July 15 (AP)—The German advance into the Don River area north of the Caucasus Mountains threatens an important agricultural region upon which Russia has been depending for grain, meat and other food supplies for her Southern armies.

The loss of this area would increase Russian demands for American food supplies.

The value of the North Caucasus as a food-producing area was emphasized in an agriculture department report issued today.

"Although much has been written since the beginning of the present war about the Caucasian oil fields, little attention has been given," the report said, "to the Southern Russian 'bread basket' often associated in the public mind with the Ukraine only. North Caucasus is one of the richest agricultural areas of the Soviet Union."

The Russians were said to have planted extensive crops in the North Caucasus this year, using machinery and other equipment moved from the Ukraine when the Germans moved into that area a year ago. It is possible that the Russians may be able to get much of the Caucasian wheat and barley crops harvested and moved out of German reach. The region has an early harvesting season. Most of its grain is of the winter variety which matures about this season.

Near the body was a sickle with which he had been cutting grass and weeds. Death is believed to have been due to a heart attack induced by overexertion.

Forecasts Increase In Heart Disease

Chicago, July 15 (AP)—A sharp increase in cases of heart disease—public health's No. 1 enemy—can be expected both among service men and civilians as a result of the shock and strain of war, Dr. J. Leland Jones told the American Osteopathic association today.

Dr. Jones, of the Kansas City (Mo.) College of Osteopathy and Surgery, said, "the high speed of trucks, automobiles and airplanes, the noise of tanks and high explosives and general increased tempo of modern warfare are bound to produce conditions that result in functional heart troubles even among sturdy, trained athletes."

neighborhood and homes. We will be almost stunned by shocking news and confirmed reports of astounding tragedies. The hour will come when all will appear black and hopeless.

But, when that hour comes; when we pass through those horrifying and heart-rending weeks and months of despair; when the cause of Freedom and Liberty and Justice for all mankind will appear hopeless and lost, . . . that will be the hour of our supreme test of Americanism; of faith and hope in the Christian and American way of life.

That will be the hour when we will have to fight with our backs against the wall.

But, let's not wait until that dismal hour to fight.

LET'S STAND UP AND FIGHT AND FIGHT RIGHT NOW.

Roll up your sleeves, tighten your belt and dig in.

Let's face facts.

We are in an all out, a total war. It is not only a war of far-flung battle-fronts thousands of miles away. It is a war that starts at our very fireside . . . yours and mine. The precious freedom and liberty that you enjoy now won't be worth a plugged penny if we lose. You'll become slaves to the most ruthless and merciless gang of heartless dictators the world has ever known. WE MUST WIN THIS WAR. LET'S START WINNING IT NOW.

Those who cannot bear arms have a major task to do at home.

FIRST: Conserve on food, clothing, gasoline, rummer and every other article essential to the conduct of our victorious war.

SECOND: Buy war bonds to the very limit of your financial capacity. Buy war bonds and stamps until it hurts; buy them now and keep on buying them until the Axis partners are crushed.

THIRD: Have faith and confidence in your military, naval and air corps leaders . . . all the leaders of all the Allied Nations. It is their business to fight this war. They have made a study of it. They know far better than you and I do. Back them up!

FOURTH: Stick to your job. Give every ounce of your energy and effort. Do the best you can at the job you are doing. If you are asked to do something extra, do it, and do it willingly, not grudgingly.

FIFTH: Don't believe it and furthermore don't spread idle, gossipy rumors that tend to break down civilian morale. Don't believe Axis propaganda.

SIXTH: Bear in mind that when the military leaders censor news they do so not to keep YOU from knowing. Oh, No! They would like YOU to know everything. But they must keep certain bits of information from OUR ENEMY. That's the only reason why ALL THE INTIMATE DETAILS OF THE WAR'S PROGRESS ARE NOT PUBLISHED. ITS REAL PURPOSE IS TO CONFOUND THE ENEMY.

SEVENTH: Give your fullest cooperation to every suggestion your government offers.

EIGHTH: Stop criticizing. Stop grumbling. Stop fussing and stop complaining. You still live better and enjoy more privileges and blessings than any other nation in the world. You'll always have them, too, if you help to win the war.

NINTH: Be brave and hopeful when the setbacks strike us.

TENTH: STAND UP AND FIGHT FOR A UNITED FRONT AT HOME. Let's be All-out Americans for America. Let's do our bit every minute. We are going to win this war but you and I and everybody else must help.

SPY MATERIAL IS EXHIBITED

New York, July 15 (AP)—A German-born former American Coast Guardsman with a fancy name and a loose tongue was held in $25,000 bail today on espionage charges.

Assistant FBI Director P. E. Foxworth said the accused spy, Washington Glendale Spiegelberg, 35, had on his person plans of the B-24 type bomber when arrested in a Long Island bar Sunday.

In Detroit, where he was known as Alex Spiegelberg, a partner in the Donelly Engineering Corporation said last night that the spy suspect "had full access to all drawings" of the four-engine bomber, manufactured by Ford, during his employment as a process engineer with the Donelly firm for the first four months of this year.

The Donelly official, Alex Sobodoski, said Spiegelberg spent his entire time there in work on the Ford bomber plant machinery and "was in between Ford and us and had full access to all drawings and everything else."

The prisoner, born in Berlin while his father was in the U. S. consular service and therefore an American citizen, was seized in a Hempstead, New York, drinking place on the tip of an Army corporal who overheard him talking about the plans.

CIVIL SERVICE SEEKS LAWYERS

There are no age limits but applicants will be given a written test with training, experience and an oral examination also having a bearing on the eligibility rating.

Salaries for naval architects and marine engineers range from $2,600 to $5,600 a year. A written test will be given. There are training and experience requirements for all of the jobs.

Full information and application forms are available from Arthur W. Warman, secretary of the local board of Civil Service examiners.

Vichy Takes Over Jewish Property

Vichy, July 15 (AP)—The Vichy government published a sweeping decree today taking over the management of all Jewish-controlled property and businesses, leases and rights in French colonies.

The edict came upon the heels of a Gestapo order barring Jews from every public gathering place, indoors or outdoors, in the Nazi-occupied regions.

The German order was signed by the head of the Gestapo and Nazi storm troops in France instead of by the commander of the military occupation forces and contained provisions more severe than the anti-Jewish regulations in effect in Berlin.

in ambush were rushing full steam to attack. But because the enemy had changed course contact was not established immediately. Some American planes hunted so long they landed at sea.

However, Waldron and Lieutenant Commander Clarence Wade McClusky, Jr., of Buffalo, N. Y., shrewdly guessed what the enemy had done, led their squadrons accordingly, and attacked the Japanese against heavy resistance. Then American carrier planes arrived in force. The Navy described the ensuing fight as "such an aerial circus as never before had been witnessed so far at sea."

As a result of the ambush the Japanese carriers, Kaga, Akagi and Soryu were severely damaged and set afire. Two battleships were hit, one of them left burning fiercely, and one destroyer was hit and believed sunk.

Ambush discovered—By this time the enemy had learned of the American Naval force which included at least three carriers. Planes from the then undameged carrier Hiryu attacked the Yorktown and her escort. Four bombers out of 18 made three hits on the American ship. The rest were destroyed.

Meanwhile the Yorktown's planes had found the Hiryu, hit her repeatedly and left her blazing from stem to stern. She sank the next day.

About the same time, a U. S. submarine put three torpedoes into the smoking Soryu, which later exploded and finally sank that night. At sunset Army bombers scored three hits on the damaged Akagi, one hit on an unidentified large ship, one hit on a cruiser which was left burning, and one or more on a destroyer which was believed sunk.

The Kaga and the Akagi and the Soryu sank during the night.

United States forces had won mastery of the air about Midway.

Brother, You Can't Believe All You See

New York, July 15 (AP)—A 1942 version of the old gold brick salesman is on the loose, and motorists on the gas-starved eastern seaboard are warned to watch out for him.

A canny chap, according to Queens county Assistant District Attorney Lawrence J. McGrath, he plays hard to get but if you persist he'll sell you pills "guaranteed" to substitute for gasoline.

First complaint came yesterday from a driver who said another motorist pulled up at a filling station, put five gallons of water into what appeared to be his fuel tank, dropped in several white pills then drove away.

The fascinated witness drove off in pursuit, caught the pill-man and purchased five of the pills for $2. He went home and poured five gallons of water into his car's tank, added the pills and stepped on the starter.

Nothing happened. In fact, his car now won't ven run with gneuine gas.

Ray Starr Hurls Three-Hit Ball But Loses 2 to 1; Outfielders Collide, Hurt

FREAK HOMER LOSES BATTLE FOR CINCY REDS

By JUDSON BAILEY
[By The Associated Press]

The secret of successful pitching sometimes seems to be luck as much as skill.

Yesterday Ray Starr, the lean spellbinder of the Cincinnati Reds, pitched three-hit ball and was beaten 2-1 by the pitiful Phils because two outfielders collided under a fly hit by Pitcher Frank (Rube) Melton and the ball fell for a home run.

On the other hand Vern Olsen, the Chicago Cubs' southpaw, was pummeled for 11 hits by the New York Giants and not only escaped with his sixth straight victory but scored a shutout, 3-0.

Freak Homer

Starr's misfortune came in the fifth inning just after his teammates had given him a 1-0 lead. The rookie had walked Catcher Benny Warren of the Phils and then Melton lifted a long fly to left center. Outfielders Max Marshall and Harry Craft raced for it and knocked each other to the ground. The ball rolled away for a homer and time had to be called—and stretchers, too, before the game could continue.

This resulted in Starr being charged with his fifth defeat against a dozen victories and cost Cincinnati a full game's distance against the Brooklyn Dodgers and St. Louis Cardinals, both of whom won.

At Chicago the Giants got men on base in every inning and made hits in the first eight, but they never were able to break through Olsen for a run. The Cubs made three less hits off two New York pitchers, but Lou Novikoff singled home two tallies in the fifth and the Cubs scored in the eighth on two singles—one of the scratchy sort.

Cards Beat Braves

At St. Louis Mort Cooper had luck of a different sort. He was batted out of the box for the third time in succession, but the Cardinals rallied spectacularly to beat the Boston Braves, 7-5, in 11 innings and wipe out what would have been Cooper's fifth setback.

A two-run homer by George Kurowski tied the score in the eighth and another two-run circuit clout by Stan Musial settled the affair.

Brooklyn punished the Pittsburgh Pirates 5-1 with Whitlow Wyatt pitching three-hit ball for his tenth triumph of the year in a night game that drew 21,254 fans at Pittsburgh.

Wyatt's path was made easy when Billy Herman doubled with the bases loaded in the first inning for three runs.

Tigers Blanked

The Pirates, who sent two infielders to Minneapolis in a deal for Huck Geary, who had not arrived at game time last night, had to play Outfielder Eddie Stewart at third base because Bob Elliott was ill. Stewart made an error that helped load the bases in the first.

In the American league, the New York Yankees downed the Detroit Tigers 3-0 on the two-hit hurling of Rookie Hank Borowy and extended their first place margin to six games as the Boston Red Sox absorbed another beating by the St. Louis Browns, 3-2.

The Yanks made only six hits off big Al Benton, but one of these was a triple by Borowy that was good for a run in the third inning and another was a two-run homer by Tom Henrich in the sixth. It was the third straight game in which the Yanks have homered and it gave the champs a 3-1 edge in the four game series.

Boston was held to seven hits by knuckleballer John Niggeling, but made the score close because two of these were home runs by Lou Finney and Oscar Judd.

French Derides Pirate Scoffing

Pittsburgh, July 15 (AP)—Brooklyn's husky Larry French, who paces the major leagues in pitching with 10 straight victories, terms "a lot of hooey" the remarks of Pirates Manager Frankie Frisch and others that all he had was a "butterfly softball."

"I'm using the same pitches I had when I first came to the Pittsburgh Pirates 14 years ago—although my screwball is breaking better this year," the ace Dodger southpaw declared.

French was referring to the Sunday dugout chatter of the Bucs when players and Frisch kept yelling for the Buccaneer batters to "hit that nuthin' ball" and that "butterfly softball." The Dodger southpaw gave his ex-teammates but three hits in winning his 10th straight, 2 to 1.

Larry admitted it takes a lot of luck, support and hard work to win that many games—even with "them Brooklyn bums."

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By SID FEDER

Boston, July 15 (AP)—Plain Ben Jones, who ought to know, says Apache's the hoss Whitlaway has to beat today to pick up the Massachusetts marbles. . . . Weight and all, we'll string along with Mr. Bigtail. . . . Incidentally, did you know Suffolk Downs, where Whirly does his stuff this time trying to bust Seabiscuit's record, used to be a broccoli patch? . . . No hoss-player can say he walked away from there hungry. . . .

DEFENSE MECHANISM

The Yanks have chalked up 111 double plays. . . . It's just like those National leaguers said—the only way to get a hit through that infield is to shoot it out of an ack-ack gun. . . . Tip is out that Tennessee'll be the hottest outfit in the Southeastern conference footballing this fall. . . . Chicago will get the first fight of Mike Jacobs' new Navy-USO series that goes out of New York this fall. . . . But you can bet Tony Zale won't be in it. . . . Tony's exclusively interested in being a sailor boy. . . .

TODAY'S GUEST STAR

Buck Weaver, Louisville Times: Our old friend, Frankie Catrone, is so far in front of the trainers at Suffolk Downs he can stumble a couple of times and still finish ahead of the others. . . .

Pacific coast conference schools are still wondering how far football's going to get out thataway this fall. . . . What's this about Joe Cronin working out to whittle his waist down? . . . Back to infield patrol, Joe? . . . Well, if Luke Sewell and Ossie Bluege can do it, why not Mr. Big Jaw of Boston? . . . And any day now you'll probably hear about Jimmy Dykes wheeling himself back into that White Sox lineup. . . . If he can still wheel. . . .

SUCCESS SYSTEM

Lefty Gomez has won two straight since his brand new son arrived. . . . So El Goofo figures a family of six or seven would insure his staying with the Yanks forever. . . .

Leo Durocher has barred baseball writers from the Dodgers' dressing room. . . . And the writers are leaving their gas masks home now. . . . Wonder what Rome Schwagel, Georgetown's graduate manager, will do with his spare time? . . . All he's going to have to handle is the baseball coaching job, all the football scouting and the publicity this year to fill in for guys who've gone to work for Uncle Samuel. . . . Tom Shehan leaves the Morning Telegraph to join the staff of Stewards at Rockingham Park in the first move to fill the vacancy left when Tom Thorp died. . . . And when Arne Anderson ran that record 4:06.2 mile in Stockholm the other night, he did it on a track heavy from rain . . . strictly a mudder, apparently. . . .

Headline: Gordon regains American league batting lead—
No matter where the Flash goes buzzin'
He always finds a pitchin' couzin.

Incidentally, American league players tell you if Ted Williams has any weakness, it's against knuckleball elbowing. . . . Auburn has only two football coaches—Jack Meagher and Jim Hitchcock—left from last year's staff of seven. . . . The others, as well as the entire basketball staff, are doing it for Uncle Sam now. . . . That came pretty close to being a punch-tossing party in the Empire city jocks room the other day when a couple of "name" riders wanted to work out on a youngster they accused of rough riding. . . . Eddie Arcaro's willing to bet Shut Out knocks off Alsab, Valdina Orphan, Apache or Old Man Mose in the Arlington Classic. . . . The way Chicago fans are rooting for Lou Novikoff, don't be surprised if they run him for mayor out there. . . . Is that okay, Mr. Kelly? . . .

ANGLERS FIND GOOD FISHING NEARER HOME

Harrisburg, July 15 (AP)—Pennsylvania anglers—handicapped by motoring restrictions and faced with increased labor demands—are doing more fishing closer to home.

"Many sections report only one-third the number of fishermen along streams this season in comparison to other years," said a fish commission spokesman. "Gasoline rationing in the eastern part of the state, rubber shortage everywhere and the industrial boom are keeping anglers from making long trips."

Although favorite spots, such as the upper Allegheny, Susquehanna and Delaware rivers, are drawing good crowds, other good fishing waters, like Pymatuning dam, have had slim crowds.

Catches have been meager in almost every part of the state with heavy rains keeping many streams, particularly those in the central section, cloudy.

Good Catches

However, some good bass catches have been reported.

S. P. Green, Butler angler, caught a 22¼-inch, 5-pound large-mouth bass which had just swallowed an 8¼-inch golden shiver.

E. B. Updegraff, veteran Kane fisherman, using surface lures, snared two "chunky" small-mouth bass, each about 18 inches long and weighing about three pounds.

The most unusual catch was made by Carl Bryer, of McKeesport, while trolling in his rowboat in the Allegheny river at Thompson's eddy. He caught a 21-inch wall-eyed pike and had just tossed his plug back into the stream and picked up his oars when he got another strike.

He reeled in his line to find he had hooked a 26-inch, 9-pound carp which usually turns down everything but doughballs and worms.

Extend Deadline For Tourney Entry

Chicago, July 15 (AP)—The entry deadline for Chicago's second benefit golfing extravaganza—next week's combined $15,000 Tam O'Shanter open and all American amateur tournaments—was extended two days today in an effort to squeeze in more players from the armed forces.

The time limit expired today, but George S. May, club president, said entries would be accepted through Friday, July 17, to accommodate golfers now in service, many of whom are awaiting final word on furloughs which would enable them to compete.

The qualifying round of the amateur event will start Monday, the open qualifying round Wednesday. The championship field of the open will be limited to 200 players, including the 64 qualifying amateurs entitled to compete simultaneously in both tournaments. Proceeds will go to Army emergency relief.

HAMBLETONIAN LIKELY TO GO TO "SLICKERS"

New York, July 15 (AP)—Racing of trotting horses is considered pretty much a rural sport but three city "slickers" figure to cut up the $40,000 Hambletonian melon with a sportsman from Pennsylvania's farming country when the 17th buggy whip derby is renewed over Goshen's triangular track on August 12.

In fact, if any three-year-old, other than the trio owned by three New Yorkers and a Williamsport, Pa., horseman, comes down in front it will be somewhat of a surprise.

C. W. Phellis, New Yorker long interested in the sport, and I. W. Gleason of Williamsport, own Colby Hanover, 1941 juvenile champ and the current favorite. Cannon Ball, the second choice flies the silks of George F. Benham and the Ambassador carries the hopes of Bill Strang, who has spent thousands of dollars to own a Hambletonian winner but never has come closer than winning one heat, that by His Excellency last year.

Cannon Ball and The Ambassador are slated to go today in the $6,500 matron stakes at Roosevelt raceway while Colby waits for the National and American stakes at Old Orchard, Me.

The late Eugene Frey of York, Pa., raced Colby last year but after his death, Colby was sold for a reported $15,000. He won $16,256 as a two-year-old, winning seven of his 11 starts and finishing second three other times and third once.

Cannon Ball faced the barrier an even dozen times and earned $9,312. He won only three races but two of the victories were on the Goshen track.

Marine School To Close Today

Philadelphia, July 15 (AP)—The U. S. Marine corps basic school which has trained young officers here since 1924 prepared to disband officially today with the graduation of 162 second lieutenants in the Marine Corps Reserve.

Lieut. Colonel John W. Beckett, director, said reserve officers hereafter will be trained only at the Quantico, Virginia, base.

Members of the graduating class were drawn from 29 states and the District of Columbia. From Pennsylvania were Thomas A. Breen, John C. Lundrigan, Philadelphia; William G. Shoop, Freeport; James A. Michener, Sayre; Arthur C. Gayvert, Washington, and Clement B. Newbold, Jenkintown.

SPORT SHORTS

Pittsburgh, July 15 (AP)—When Frankie Frisch, boss of the Pittsburgh Pirates, called attention to the 26 players in uniform—one more than the rules allow—on the Brooklyn bench, Dodger Manager Leo Durocher silenced him by sending outfielder Frenchy Bordagaray to sit with the Bucs, who are one player short.

Brooklyn's oversupply of talent was caused by the arrival of Max Macon, Montreal southpaw. He still is the property of the Royals but was wearing a Brooklyn suit.

Chicago, July 15 (AP)—You can't convince young Bob Wilson, son of Cub Manager Jimmy Wilson, that the veteran Jimmy Foxx has lost his hitting power. Young Bob was struck by one of Foxx' line smashes yesterday while pitching in batting practice. X-ray pictures showed the right arm was broken.

Augusta, Ga., July 15 (AP)—Wally Schang, former New York Yankee catcher, has been named manager of Augusta's South Atlantic league club.

Camp Wheeler, Ga., July 15 (AP)—Soldier Cecil Travis, former Washington Senator infielder, is sporting a beautiful "shiner" and some stitches across his nose.

The discolored eye and gashed nose resulted when an unruly grounder got away from him. The post hospital said he would watch his Army team-mates from the bench for several days.

63 SEEK STATE AMATEUR TITLE

Oakmont, Pa., July 15 (AP)—Defending champion Steve Kovach of Tarentum, was among the early starters today as 63 entrants began match play in the Pennsylvania State Amateur Golf tournament.

Kovach, a husky little steelworker who ranks as one of the nation's best amateur linksmen, was a pre-tournament favorite to retain his crown. His first opponent was Steve Uram of Ridgeview.

The tournament runs through Friday with morning and afternoon rounds scheduled each day. Oakmont's tricky course, site of the 1935 National Open, is expected to provide plenty of trouble for many of the entrants but Kovach said he wasn't worried.

"I play my best golf there," he explained.

Several former titleholders were entered in the tournament, among them S. Davidson Herron of Pittsburgh, who captured the crown in 1920 and 1929. His first-round opponent was Van Horn Ely of Philadelphia.

Another former champ, Greer McIlvaine of the host club, was paired with Art Wall of Pittston.

John Buchanan of Philadelphia, seeded second in the tournament, met J. Signorella of Brackenridge Heights. Tom Jamison, Jr., seeded third, had the advantage of playing on his home course and drew Phil Gundelfinger, Jr., Pittsburgh sports writer, for first round opponent. Knox Young, Jr., of Shannopin, the No. 4 seeded entrant, had Charles Grace of Philadelphia, as his opponent.

"Sam" Heiges homerun to deep center gave the Elks a 2-1 victory over the Furniture company team in the final scheduled game in the Community Softball league Tuesday evening. Gallagher was the winning hurler and H. Kitzmiller the loser.

As a result of the Elks' win another playoff series is now necessary. The Furniture company and Hennig's are deadlocked for first place and will play three games to determine the top position team.

The Marquees will meet Knox's tonight in the first of their series. A second game will be played Thursday evening and if necessary the third game will be staged Monday evening. Upon completion of the series the Furniture-Hennig's series will start. All games will be played at 7 o'clock.

Durocher Denies Player Violation

Pittsburgh, July 15 (AP)—Manager Leo Durocher of the Brooklyn Dodgers says Max Macon is not a member of the Dodgers club and that his presence during Sunday's doubleheader with the Pittsburgh Pirates was not a violation of the 25-player rule.

President William Benswanger of the Pirates had protested to Ford Frick, National league president, that the presence of Macon in uniform on the Dodger bench while the game was in progress was illegal and a violation of the rule.

"Macon is the property of and under contract to the Montreal club of the International league," said Durocher. "We merely let Macon sit on the bench with no intention of playing him."

Eastern League

[By The Associated Press]

The Scranton Miners and Albany kept the Eastern league leadership juggling today, with the New Yorkers committed to taking the next two games of the current series if they want to change places with the Miners.

Scranton clung to its narrow edge by virtue of an 11-hit barrage on Righthander Don Kerr in the first game of last night's doubleheader. It yielded a 9 to 2 verdict for the Miners, but they dropped the after piece 4 to 0 as Albany kept very much in the race.

Springfield staged an uphill battle all the way to edge Elmira 10 to 9. The victors spotted Elmira six runs in the first three innings but finally solved three Elmira hurlers to pull away.

Williamsport's new pitcher, Leo Pukas, hurled the Grays to a 3 to 0 shutout over the Hartford Senators. He kept the Senators well in hand throughout to give Williamsport its sixth victory in nine engagements with Hartford.

Paul Calvert threw a three-hitter at Binghamton as his Wilkes-Barre teammates batted out a 5 to 2 triumph over the Trips.

WHIRLY MAY SET RECORD TODAY

Boston, July 15 (AP)—Whirlaway may give the horse laugh to the so-wealthy Seabiscuit in the $50,000-added Massachusetts Handicap at Suffolks Downs today.

The four-year-old son of the English Derby-winning Blenheim II needs only $27,244 to equal the record earnings of $437,730 that Seabiscuit piled up during his six years of campaigning.

And he can get it if he can outfoot seven rivals to the wire for the $44,850 winner's share of the richest purse of the current season for handicap horses.

Whirly tangles with some real speed. The wizard-like touch of Sunnny Jim Fitzsimmons has Apache, latest challenger to three-year-old honors, right up where he might go out in front and pile up a big lead.

If Apache does not crowd Whirly, it could be Mrs. Parker Corning's Attention, or likely, Emerson Woodward's New England favorite, Rounders, and then again there is a slight chance that the early-breaking Transfigure, owned by Texan John L. Sullivan, may last and burst home to take all.

Friendship is the ideal; friends are the reality; reality always remains far apart from the ideal.

Today's Talk

By George Matthew Adams

SHORT CUTS

There are no short cuts to permanent good. Watch a bee gather its honey. How industrious it is, and how exacting in every step toward the final hoarding of the honey within the comb. A hundred—yes, thousands of years from now, if bees are then in the world, they will follow out the same systematic procedure.

One of the main reasons for so much poverty, hunger, and suffering in this world is that too many have expected a short cut to success or fame. It can't be done! Man can devise more efficient methods of manufacture, or of individual working, but every process evolves itself into order and hard work.

Effort is the cornerstone of all beginnings. It creates greater knowledge, and therefore enlarges native ability. There is no royal road to anything worth the attaining. Short cuts may gain temporary acclaim and idle boast, but they only disorganize the true path to permanence and stable success. In nature we learn the true law of growth. It takes a definite period for the growth of every plant, tree, or animal, there. Nature is irritated by any urging toward short cuts. It spurns them!

Neglect is a cousin to every short cut. Short cuts are the playthings of fools. They alone deal in them.

General MacArthur took no short cut to his present prestige as a great leader. That's why he is dependable and has the confidence of the world in his difficult place. No one can be in a hurry who wishes to accomplish anything of high value.

Said the wise Dr. Johnson: "There is nothing, Sir, too little for so little a creature as man. It is by studying little things that we attain the great art of having as little misery and as much happiness as possible."

There are no short cuts even to happiness. It's a long life of endurance, of iron courage, and persistent faith in the ultimate triumph of the right and best that brings us the rarest happiness.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Perpetual Triumph."

THE MISSING CARES

"'Tis strange, that I should like to know
The bothers of a year ago;
And coming home should long to see
His garments where they shouldn't be,
And miss those dresser drawers pulled out
Which oft I made a fuss about.

"At times I pace the room," said she,
"And wish it weren't so orderly.
There should be papers on the floor;
A chair should hold the coat he wore.
'Tis there his hat he used to throw.
I never thought I'd miss it so!

"He used to smile to hear me scold,
But now day-long my tongue I hold,
And all is orderly and neat.
I wish he'd come with muddy feet
The moment I have swept the floor
And, heedless, track it, just once more!

"'Tis strange, that I should long to know
The cares o'er which I fretted so;
Could look upon the great hall chair
And see his dripping raincoat there.
But all is now so neat and trim,
For lost is every trace of him."

Many of them have their families here, some in private residences and others at the Academy, with the result that more or less extensive preparations had to be made to get all their belongings together and pack up for a hurried leaving.

This is one of the many lines of work undertaken by the local committee in charge of providing entertainment for the soldiers. The reclamation of the pond required some expense and a great deal of work. The breast of the dam had to be plugged shut, as numerous openings had been made, the gate had to be repaired, and the high grass had to be mowed before the water was allowed to accumulate.

Max Foth, the owner of the land, did not charge any rental for the land which is not under cultivation. He allowed its use as his contribution to the work.

State And Federal Officials Check State Defense System

GOVERNOR TO BE IN CHARGE OF SESSIONS

Harrisburg, July 15 (AP) — National defense officials and Army officers will come to the state capital tomorrow for a check-up conference on Pennsylvania's air raid protection system.

James M. Landis, head of the U. S. Office of Civilian Defense, will be accompanied by Brigadier General U. S. Grant, III, head of the OCD's civilian protection branch; Judge Rowland K. Adams, of Baltimore, director of the third civilian defense region and other staff members.

Leaders of the state's county and local defense councils also were called to the session. Governor James will preside.

The program calls for addresses by Herbert L. Gutterson, chief of the was production board's general salvage section; Blanchard Randall, Jr., regional salvage manager for the WPB; Dr. A. C. Marts, director of the State Defense council; Mrs. William Clothier, member of the State Council, and spokesmen for the rubber and household fats conservation programs.

Continue Regulations

Among the county representatives will be R. M. Ormond, of Grove City, secretary of the Mercer Defense council, who is devoting his one-week vacation to a study of defense matters at state headquarters.

"I want to learn all I can about the program," said Ormond, who also is executive director of public assistance in Mercer county.

In another development, it was disclosed that special lighting equipment for vehicles moving during blackouts has been blocked by inability to obtain materials.

Captain T. N. Boate, chief of traffic control for the State Defense council, said temporary regulations now in effect will be continued indefinitely.

Current rules, established for the recent dusk-to-dawn dimouts, provide that during partial blackouts, all vehicular traffic may move without restriction. In a complete blackout, only properly marked emergency vehicles with dimmed lights may be in motion.

Flashes Of Life

LONELY?

Los Angeles (AP)—She wanted a divorce, Mrs. Jane Willey testified, because:

Husband Llewellyn Willey frequently was on 24-hour duty as a city fireman; he also joined a night baseball team, a bowling league and a drama club.

And he always insisted that she stay at home.

Mrs. Willey got the divorce.

WHY SKIPPER!

Kansas City (AP)—Col. Harry M. Gambrel of the Third Missouri Infantry is president of the Kansas City Police Board—and look what happens:

"Cease immediately addressing superior officers as 'cap,' 'boss,' 'skipper,' 'lute,' 'sarge,' etc." said a new order.

A friendly wave of the hand is out, too. Salutes are required, along with a snappy "yes, sir!"

Climax: Officers are not allowed to smoke in public.

YES, REALLY

Minneapolis, Kas. (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. William Eldringhoff looked, then looked again at their barn roof.

Sure enough, there was a calf up there, astride the ridgepole, bellowing loudly.

They guessed an electrical storm frightened him and he climbed over several connecting sheds to his precarious perch.

SOCIAL RATING

Chicago (AP)—Dr. William B. Campbell's wife, entertaining two sailors at dinner in her suburban Beverly Hills home, suggested to her guests she invite some girls from the neighborhood for another evening.

When she asked them what type girls they preferred, one sailor replied, looking down at his white uniform:

"If it's all the same to you, I'd like to meet a girl who has a washing machine."

4 KILLED IN GAS EXPLOSION

Waynesville, N. C., July 15 (AP)—A thunderous explosion early Tuesday at the distributing plant of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey killed at least four persons and hospitalized eight others. The condition of the injured was described as serious.

The plant and two nearby houses were destroyed and three other houses were damaged.

The detonation was heard for miles around and giant tongues of flame licked at the sky in a brilliant pyrotechnic display.

Leak Causes Blast

J. L. Stringfield, chief of police in this little mountain town, said the explosion occurred at 3:30 a. m. while a large gasoline transport was unloading. He said that indications were that a leak in the hose touched off the blast, igniting some 40,000 gallons of gasoline.

Mrs. Andrew Caldwell and her two children were burned to death in their home adjacent to the plant, and an unidentified oil transport truck driver was missing.

Among the injured were W. L. Hardin, manager of the plant and Fire Chief L. L. Kerly.

R. A. F. Attacks Industrial Plants

London, July 15 (AP)—A strong force of RAF bombers attacked industrial objectives in the Ruhr valley Monday night in the fourth raid on Germany this month, the air ministry announced today.

The German high command said the British bombed the important industrial city of Duisburg, about 15 miles north of Duesseldorf, between the Ruhr and the Rhine. Duisburg has many blast furnaces and metal plants and is an important coal and iron ore center. It has a population of about 275,000.

"Many fires were left burning," a communique said.

Five of the raiding aircraft were reported missing.

Meanwhile, Oliver Lyttelton, minister of state in charge of production, told the House of Commons in opening the debate on production today that Britain still maintains its "lead in the air, particularly in quality."

Coffee was first used not as a beverage but as a paste similar to a chocolate bar.

EX-PRESIDENT OF ARGENTINA EXPIRES TODAY

Buenos, Aires, July 15 (AP)—Former President Roberto M. Ortiz of Argentina, who resigned his post June 24 after being inactive for nearly two years because of ill health and near blindness, died today.

He had received extreme unction early this morning from Bishop Temnos Miguel De Andrea.

Ortiz, who was 55, had suffered from diabetes for several years and his condition became serious yesterday after an attack of bronchial pneumonia. His condition was further complicated by a kidney ailment, it was said.

Ortiz was a firm believer in inter-American cooperation.

18th President

Roberto M. Ortiz, who rose from the post of city councilman in Buenos Aaires to become his country's 18th President, was forced to retire from active administration of his office at a time when his faith in democracy and his abhorrence of aggression seemed destined to lead Argentina on a path far different from the present course of "prudent neutrality."

Soon after his illness forced him into an inactive role on July 4, 1940, he said in an interview that President Roosevelt's re-election to a third term was "a tonic for those of us in America who want the democratic process and international understanding to survive."

"We may take heart at the thought that the most powerful democracy among us will keep faith with us all," he said.

Probe Strike In Steel Area

Uniontown, Pa., July 15 (AP)—The U. S. labor conciliation service intervened today in a two-day strike of 600 coal truck drivers which has forced several hundred coal miners into idleness and threatened to curtail coke supplies of steel mill blast furnaces.

Thomas P. McTigue, regional director of the United Construction Workers division of District 50, CIO United Mine Workers, said a conciliator would confer with the drivers on their demands for increased pay for hauling coal to Fayette county's beehive coke ovens.

Meanwhile, the strikers established picket lines in the Brownsville area in an attempt to halt movement of coal by about 200 other truckers. They said the drivers would be permitted to unload at the ovens on their first trip during the day, but would not be allowed a second trip.

JOSH LEE WINS RE-NOMINATION

Oklahoma City, July 15 (AP)—Josh Lee, 50-year-old Senator and unreserved New Deal champion, won Democratic renomination over nine opponents by a clear majority in unofficial returns from yesterday's primary election.

He defeated 72-year-old W. H. (Alfalfa Bill) Murray, former Governor and Congressman whose nest egg of rural votes failed to hatch.

Murray ran third behind Orel Busby, who conceded Lee's renomination.

In 2,112 precincts out of 3,674, the count was Lee 96,753, Busby 46,868, and Murray 19,821.

Republicans chose W. B. Pine, Okmulgee industrialist, to oppose Lee in the November general election. Pine served in the Senate from 1925 to 1931.

NEW FARM BILL MAY BE VETOED BY ROOSEVELT

Washington, July 15 (AP)—A new compromise in the deadlock over the agriculture department appropriation bill faced a showdown in the House today amid predictions that the President would veto the proposal if it passed.

Offered by Chairman Cannon (D-Mo) of the House Appropriations Committee, the compromise calls for the sale of 125,000,000 bushels of government controlled surplus wheat at corn parity prices for livestock feeding. This is a sharp departure from the senate demand for 85 per cent of corn parity and previous house insistence that no surplus wheat be sold at prices below wheat parity.

Parity is a level calculated to give crops the same purchasing power as in a previous period, usually 1909-1914.

Vote Compromise

The compromise was approved 81 to 34 on a division vote in the House yesterday, but opponents forced adjournment and postponed a roll-call vote until today on the ground of no quorum.

Despite predictions by some House conferees that the proposal would be accepted by the Senate, Senate Majority leader McNary of Oregon and other influential senators asserted it would meet stiff senate opposition. Some said they thought the President would veto it. These senators declined to be quoted by name.

The administration wants to release the surplus wheat to feed livestock for meat needed in the war program, they said. Under the Cannon proposal, they explained, farmers would not buy wheat for feed because they could get corn cheaper.

OPEN HEARINGS ON SUBSIDENCE

Harrisburg, July 15 (AP)—The first of a series of hearings to obtain data on subsidences in the hard coal fields will be held Friday in Shenandoah, scene of a 1940 cave-in disaster.

The session will be directed by the Anthracite Subsidence commission, a 10-member group created by the 1941 legislature which seeks data for future legislation.

The commission will first meet tomorrow morning in Pottsville and then tour Schuylkill county coal fields.

A "thorough examination" of the Shenandoah subsidence disaster which caused great property damage was promised by Joseph F. English, commission director. He said private citizens and property owners as well as school authorities, coal companies and subsidence associations will present testimony.

The second hearing is scheduled for West Pittston "sometime next month."

Five state senators and five members of the House comprise the commission, headed by Senator George B. Stevenson, Lock Haven.

Father Identifies Son As Assailant

Reading, Pa., July 15 (AP)—Fifteen-year-old Marshall Wittman, accused of shooting his father during an argument, will be tried on a charge of murder if his father dies, the District Attorney's office disclosed.

The boy was taken to see his father, Robert Wittman, 58, at Allentown hospital last night and C. Wilson Austin, assistant district attorney, said the elder Wittman pointed out his son as his assailant.

Marshall "said nothing and didn't appear to be upset," at confronting his father, Austin said.

Wittman, who was shot in the abdomen at his home in nearby Hancock Monday night, was reported in critical condition.

5 Ride Over Dam In Boat And Live

Pittsburgh, July 15 (AP)—Three men and two boys rode a speedboat over the dam at Lock No. 2 on the Allegheny river near Highland Park—and lived to tell about it.

And that, according to veteran rivermen, is the first time such a thing has happened.

The boat, speeding along at 40 miles an hour, shot over the dam and dropped 15 feet to the water below. Half-swamped, the boat was pulled from the swift undertow by another boat.

Walter T. Bauer, 38, pilot of the speedboat, said he had not realized the dam was so close.

"When I saw it, it was too late to turn," he added.

BOY HELD FOR TWO SLAYINGS

Greensburg, Pa., July 15 (AP)—Eighteen-year-old Russell Roddy of Lloydsville, Westmoreland county, was held today for investigation in the auto deaths of his stepfather and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Fletcher of Lloydsville, State Motor Patrolman Ray Walsh reported.

Walsh said Roddy was the driver of an automobile which struck the 61-year-old Fletcher last Sunday night near Lloydsville and then crashed into a culvert, fatally injuring Mrs. Fletcher, an occupant of the machine. Mrs. Fletcher died en route to a hospital and Fletcher died last night.

Walsh said Roddy and his stepparents were at a club Sunday and that after the Fletchers began quarrelling, Roddy and his mother drove away in Roddy's automobile. Fletcher left the club later and was walking along a highway when he was struck.

Roddy, sought since the accident, was found in a shack last night near St. Vincent's college in Latrobe, Walsh said. Roddy is married.

TEAMWORK

Philadelphia, July 15 (AP)—Robert H. Stern is going into the Army and his friend, Leopold W. Von Seldeneck, is taking over his job at no salary in "the craziest proposition you've ever heard."

Stern, 34, a partner in a printing shop wanted to join the Army but his salary was needed to provide for his wife and three-year-old daughter.

Seldeneck, 36, an investment banker with a private income, is not qualified for military service because of a lame arm.

"I went into his office," Stern related, "and said 'I've got the craziest proposition you've ever heard.' * * * I asked him if he would come down and take care of my business for me at no salary."

Seldeneck accepted and said he won't ever take carfare for himself.

The friends put it this way: "Individually, neither of us could join. Working together, we can put at least one man in uniform."

FRANCE FACES LOSS OF NINE BIG WARSHIPS

By DE WITT MACKENZIE
Wide World War Analyst

Pierre Laval, pro-Hitler chief of the French government at Vichy, would appear to have maneuvered himself into an uncomfortable position by his uncompromising attitude towards President Roosevelt in the matter of the nine French warships at Alexandria, Egypt.

The President had made two proposals to Laval for the removal of the warships from this threatened Naval base to a safe haven. The French sailors were to be repatriated immediately and the ships were to be returned to France after the war. It was a friendly offer.

Absurd Request

But the Fuehrer's chore-boy rejected the suggestions and countered with the absurd request that the ships be delivered to a French port in the Mediterranean. This, of course, would keep these valuable fighting machines within possible Nazi grasp. That Laval was acting under German influence is patent, and it may easily be that he had orders direct from Hitler.

With the second rejection Mr. Roosevelt informed Laval that in his view the British would be warranted in destroying the French ships to keep them from falling into Axis hands. Naturally the British will pursue exactly that course, unless they adopt the alternative of removing the ships through the Suez canal to a safe place.

"Traitors All"

One wonders whether it was by pure coincidence that Secretary of the Interior Ickes held out the hand of friendship to the French people yesterday in a speech on the occasion of France's Bastille Day. Mr. Ickes was, as usual, emphatic in his remarks, especially when he declared that "Hitler's French puppets and stooges, traitors all, have good cause to fear the vengeance of outraged French patriots on the day of victory." The Secretary didn't name the "stooges" he had in mind.

It is notable that, despite Laval's attitude towards the Allies, Ickes again assured the French people that "the United Nations will restore freedom to France." At another place he declared that "France's calvary will come to an end—and sooner than the assassins think."

YANK BATTERY DOWNS PLANES

San Francisco, July 15 (AP)—United States anti-aircraft guns downed one Japanese Zero fighter plane and accounted for another "little more than 12 hours" after the battery had "landed with their guns at Port Moresby," the Sydney radio broadcast Tuesday morning.

"These men of the anti-aircraft unit were the first United States land troops to take up duty in New Guinea," the radio account heard by CBS continued.

"They disembarked from transports just before dark and worked on through the night building gun emplacements.

"Soon after dawn they went into action. They opened fire on two Zero fighters which swept down on the gun emplacement. One Zero crashed in flames almost on top of the battery and the other was last seen diving towards the mountain range with smoke pouring from its engine."

Despite a peace treaty with Russia in March, 1918, the German invaders of World War I captured Sevastopol at the end of April of that year.

GANDHI WANTS INDIA FREE OF BRITISH RULE

Wardha, India, July 14 (Delayed) (AP)—Mohandas K. Gandhi supplemented the new all-India Congress party resolution demanding Britain's withdrawal from rule of India with the emphatic declaration today that there can be no further negotiation.

To reporters sitting cross-legged before him at his little school colony, Gandhi conceded that violence might result from the resolution.

"I don't want rioting or anything of that sort as a direct result of these measures," declared the wizened little Indian leader. "If rioting takes place I shall feel helpless."

The resolution must be ratified by the all-India Congress committee, which has been called to meet at Bombay Aug. 8, but never in the history of the party has an important decision of the 15-man working committee been overruled by the 350 members of the general committee.

Asked whether he expected the British to "come to terms," Gandhi replied that "they are human beings and I am never in despair of the possibility of human beings making an upward growth."

It was stated that the resolution does not intend that the British be banished physically from Indian territory, that the United Nations be handicapped in fighting the Axis or that the way be paved for aggression against India.

Naval Aviator Denies His Death

Montgomeryville, Pa., July 15 (AP)—L. A. Gray wasn't perturbed when his son, Lieutenant Richard Gray, was listed as missing on a Navy casualty list.

The son wrote him July 7 his name would be on the list and that his clothes would be sent home.

The lieutenant, a graduate of the Naval academy and a former Lansdale athlete, was in command of three fighter planes that crashed in the Pacific. The men floated for five days before they were rescued, he wrote, and meanwhile their names had gone on the list of missing.

Admit Scribes To Defense Hearings

Uniontown, Pa., July 15 (AP)—John G. Watson of Pittsburgh, field representative of the Pennsylvania Defense Council who was assigned to investigate activities of the Fayette county council, said today newspaper reporters will be admitted to all meetings of the local group except executive sessions at which Army regulations are discussed.

A controversy over publicity on the county council's activities had brought the request for the investigation from John W. Rankin, county chairman. Rankin, who is also county commissioner, had refused to admit reporters to council meetings.

MRS. MURDOCK TAKES A CASE

by George Harmon Coxe

Chapter 24
JOYCE TAKES OVER

Joyce was reading in bed.

"You must have had a busy night," she said.

"I did," Murdock answered, "in a way." He began to undress, conscious of her inspection and trying to make up his mind about a lot of things. "As a matter of fact I was out at Hestor's."

"Oh?" The word came on a softly rising inflection.

"She wanted to talk about Ward Allen."

"I see. And what did she have to say?"

"Plenty. I've got the dope on his South American adventures."

"Oh," Joyce said again. It was a different word entirely this time, and her glance was uncertain.

"I'll tell you about it if you can stay awake," he said.

She did not answer right away, but lay there watching him, her brow creased in thought and trying not to think too much about Hestor.

"Kent," she said finally. "Why don't you do something about it?"

"About what?"

"The murder."

"What could I do?"

"You could try—"

"To solve it, you mean?" He shook his head, his grin sardonic. "Oh, no. I don't know anything about the case and I don't want to know."

Joyce watched him, saying nothing. There was she saw, little use in arguing with him now. When he got stubborn about anything there wasn't much she could do. He'd made up his mind that this murder was none of his business—whether because of Hestor or from sheer inertia—and that was that. Only it wasn't so simple. If he could know what was really happening—if she could tell him the truth—

Her thoughts hung there a moment. Should she tell him? They needed help, she and Delia. And yet, even if she told him it might do no good. Unless she could goad him into saying that he would at least try to find a solution—

"You're not afraid Hestor has something to do with it, are you?"

"Certainly not."

"But still you don't want to know anything about the murder. You won't try to solve it even if I ask you."

"Look—"

"You won't, will you?"

"No," Murdock said bluntly.

Decision

"Very well." Joyce turned and patted the pillows. "Then I will."

"You will what?"

"See what I can do about finding out who killed Perry Clarke."

"Oh, no, you won't."

"But I will," Joyce said sweetly. "I'm not sure I can help much, but I intend to try."

He came to the foot of the bed and scowled down at her. "You stay out of it. You think murder is some game?"

"Quite the contrary but—"

"Whoever killed Clarke will pay with his life if he's caught. That's all he can lose, his life. If it means killing somebody else to save him he'll kill again. You happen to stumble across something that puts him in a spot and what do you think that makes you?"

"A good detective."

His face darkened. "I'm telling you, Joyce—"

"I hear you."

"I mean it."

"I know you do," Joyce said calmly. "But you won't do anything yourself, will you?"

"No, I won't."

"All right. I just wanted to be sure."

She lay back and pulled up the covers.

Murdock hesitated, helpless in his exasperation because he sensed that he had accomplished nothing. He turned abruptly and started for the bathroom, and just as he passed through the doorway, Joyce said:

"And while you're in there, darling, be sure and wash that lipstick off your face."

Beyond Her Depth

Loretta, the maid who came to the Murdock's every morning but Sunday to wash dishes and clean, answered the telephone and found Joyce in the bedroom brushing her hair.

"Telephone," Loretta said. "It's Miss Stewart."

Joyce said: "All right, thank you," and stood up. She was wearing a plaid dress, predominantly brown and simply styled. There was a little collar and a leather belt and buttons all down the front, and the skirt had pleats that gave her plenty of leg room for her graceful stride.

"Oh, Joyce," Delia said, her voice agitated. "The lieutenant wants me to come see him. At police headquarters. And Joyce"— her voice choked—"they've arrested Ward."

A sinking sensation came over Joyce.

"Are you sure?"

"Yes. Uncle Dean's on his way over here now. He's going down with me. But I want you, too, Joyce. Will you come?"

"Of course, darling. If you want me."

"Oh, I do. I need you. We'll come by for you in twenty minutes or so." She hurried on after a breath. "And we've got to hurry, Joyce. We've got to be back here to meet Mr. Fenner at eleven thirty."

Joyce glanced at the clock on the mantel and saw that it was nearly nine-thirty. There had been a telephone call for Kent shortly after eight from McGrath, the managing editor of the Courier, and he had gone out in a hurry, muttering something about an assignment in Providence. There'd been an explosion, he'd said, aboard some ship. He might not be back until late.

She had a feeling of things closing in on her, of getting beyond her depth.

Such were her thoughts as she waited for Delia and Dean Thorndike. They were still in her mind when they went up the steps and into the vaulted foyer at police headquarters and spoke to the officer at the information desk.

They waited until a man came to get them; then they rode up in the elevator and were taken to a room adjoining Lieutenant Bacon's office. It was, she saw, a conference room of sorts, with a long table in the center, a flat-topped desk at one end, and eight or ten chairs, everything in golden oak and well scarred.

Lieutenant Bacon was seated at one end of the table, his back to the desk. Next to him was a well-dressed man with horn-rimmed glasses and not much hair, although he had a young-looking face. Bacon introduced him as O'Conner, from the District Attorney's office, and asked them to be seated.

"I hardly expected so many of you," he said, eyes on Delia.

"I asked them," she said.

"And I want to know about Ward Allen," Thorndike added. "Where is he? Has he asked for a lawyer?"

"Why has he been arrested?" Delia said.

Bacon answered calmly. "He's not actually arrested. It might be called protective custody. The thing is we've unearthed a few facts that need explaining. Maybe it's just as well you all came. . . . By the way, Mr. Thorndike, what about those bonds?"

ANOTHER SPY IS ARRESTED

Washington, July 15 (AP)—Trial of eight Nazis accused of landing from submarines to sabotage American war production proceeded today with their equipment on display before the military court.

Maj. Gen. Frank R. McCoy, president of the military commission said in his evening statement yesterday that the proceeding was "expected to continue for several days."

The Nazi equipment, he said, included explosives, clothing, shovels and documents. Previously it had been learned that the Germans brought enough explosives, incendiaries and fuses for a two-year campaign of terror on the industrial front. In addition they had plans to guide them to the most vulnerable places, lists of contacts to aid them, and $176,000 in cash.

BLAST WAS ACCIDENTAL

Uniontown, Pa., July 15 (AP)—An explosion which killed three workmen and injured two others June 22 at the Liberty Powder company plant, Mt. Braddock, was the result of "accidental and unknown causes," a Fayette coroner's jury reported yesterday. A company official was the only witness at the inquest.

RUSSIA AGAIN APPEALS FOR SECOND FRONT

BY DREW MIDDLETON

London, July 15 (AP) — Soviet Russia was reported by qualified London sources today to be pressing anew for the prompt opening of a second, American-British European land front to divert the Nazi armies pounding at the gates of the vital Caucasus.

These sources, who insisted on anonymity, pointed out the eventful peril that Japan might open a second front in Siberia to distract the harried Red army if the Nazis can set the stage for it.

A smashing victory for the Germans in the battle for the Caucasian approaches, they predicted, would be followed by a Japanese attack on Siberian Russia. Japan was said to have massed at least 24 divisions—about 360,000 men—in Manchukuo with air reinforcements from home.

Campaign Months

August and September are the best months for campaigning in Siberia, according to these sources. They noted that there were no signs of large scale Japanese activity elsewhere on the Pacific front now.

Whatever the pros and cons, public sympathy for the reported renewed pleading of Soviet Ambassador Ivan Maisky was demonstrated in mass meetings over the week-end at Glasgow and Liverpool which demanded both a new front and all aid for Russia.

Soviet strategists, whose names may not be mentioned, say they are not satisfied that the British air offensive, hampered lately by bad weather, is a heavy enough threat to divert German troops from the eastern front.

Not Easy Affair

On the other hand, military sources here foresee a second front as more than just a big hit-and-run affair—one requiring exhaustive preparation. And they do not believe, they say, that the situation in southern Russia has reached a point where an American-British invasion of the continent is essential to save Russia's armies from being overrun.

That does not mean that they do not see "very grave possibilities" in the present Russian situation.

Although the Russians are being driven back, they said, there is no indication that any of the main Soviet armies has been broken or surrounded by the advancing Germans.

The offensive training of a vast American-British army in these isles, meanwhile, is progressing favorably, according to military sources who emphasize the allied need not only for heavy shipping but for barges and tank lighters for landing operations.

"All preparations for opening a second front are under way and the objective is a front which will be permanent, not only a large hit and run raid," said one informant who would not allow his name to be used.

"The type of operation now being done by the Commandos will be part of any major invasion scheme.

"There will be need for thousands of lighters and tank barges which would precede the movement of heavy materials to the invasion coast."

Accuse Man Of Killing Inductee

Pittsburgh, July 15 (AP)—Chief of County Detectives Charles W. Leith reported he had filed a murder charge against Albert Pipko, 26, of nearby Braddock, in the July 4 death of Charles Groff, 32, Fort Hill (Somerset county).

Leith said Groff was found injured on a Braddock street after a fight with Pipko. He said he understood Pipko was inducted into the Army July 1 and had been granted an immediate 14-day furlough.

Leith added that he had contacted Army officers to learn whether they will take any action in the case or leave it in the hands of county detectives.

Travels From India And Hurt Near Home

Lebanon, Pa., July 15 (AP)—Miss Edith Light, 40, returning to her home here from India was the only person injured in a bus-automobile collision only a half-mile from her destination.

Miss Light, a missionary, suffered a possible fractured back, lacerations of the scalp and shock. Hospital attaches said her condition was fair. She was a passenger on the bus en route to the home of her mother and three sisters after five years abroad.

FINE 20 BLACKOUT VIOLATORS

Haupt's Mother Arrested

Mrs. Hans Max Haupt (above) of Chicago, mother of Herbert Haupt, who is being tried by a military commission as an alleged Nazi saboteur, has been arrested by the FBI, Attorney General Francis Biddle announced in Washington. The FBI also arrested Haupt's father, charging that the parents knew of Haupt's activities.

FILE PROPOSAL FOR RATE BOOST

Harrisburg, July 15 (AP)—Increased rates for commercial users of steam heat in Wilkes-Barre and for commercial and industrial users of gas in that city and in Ashley borough and Hanover township, Luzerne county, were proposed by the Pennsylvania Power and Light company in new tariffs filed yesterday with the Public Utility Commission.

Also filed was a tariff to boost gas rates for industrial and commercial customers using more than 50,000 cubic feet of gas.

This proposal affects customers in the boroughs of Montgomery, Montoursville, and Muncy, and the townships of Clinton, Fairfield, Loyalsock, Muncy and Muncy Creek in Lycoming county; Sunbury and Milton, Northumberland county; and Delaware, Point, Turbot, Upper Augusta and West Chillisquaque townships, Northumberland county; Selinsgrove and Shamokin Dam and Monroe and Penn townships in Snyder county.

All proposed increases would be effective next August 29.

Two Passenger Cars Derailed

Memphis, Tenn., July 15 (AP)—The observation car and a sleeper on the Illinois Central's fast passenger train, Panama Limited, were derailed near here Tuesday.

Two occupants of the observation car, which overturned, were injured, Miss Love Bates, Velair hotel, Chicago, suffered head injuries and possible internal injuries. James E. Boles of Dixon, Illinois, suffered minor facial injuries.

The southbound train, which left Chicago yesterday at 3:15 p. m., for New Orleans, was four hours late reaching Memphis after the accident at Kerrville, 25 miles north of here.

PROPOSES CUT IN SHIPPING OF HARD COAL

Harrisburg, July 15 (AP)—A 35 per cent horizontal reduction in the cost of shipping hard coal by railroads was tentatively proposed today by Richard J. Beamish, Public Utility Commissioner.

In a brief prepared for a conference called by Governor James to set up a rate-reduction program, Beamish said he suggested that figure as "a starting point for discussion."

The commissioner said he opposed "a policy of piecemeal adjustments" which would "open the way to arguments and delays."

The session of state and federal authorities will be followed by formal open hearing to which the anthracite railroads will be invited. James said that hearing would consider conditions in the North Atlantic states "so far as they relate to the enormous wastage of rubber and the needs for greatly increased fuel distribution during the coming winter."

Five Objectives

As objectives of the conferences Beamish listed: 1—removal of conditions which "are prejudicial to this nation's all-out war effort." 2—restoration to the industry of "the usefulness and prosperity inherent in anthracite production." 3—relief for consumers, 4—elimination of "outrageous wastages of rubber, gasoline, trucks and other equipment now caused mainly by excessively high railway freight rates," and 5—solution of "the problem caused by bootlegging operations, and reduction of hazards caused by unsafe operation of anthracite-carrying trucks."

Asserting that anthracite freight rates "are too high for the use of the general public and operate as a boomerang upon the roads themselves," Beamish declared:

"If the roads will cooperate with the mine workers, with the anthracite Institute, with Governor James and the administration of this Commonwealth, with the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission and finally with the federal agencies x x x they will find peace and prosperity x x x"

Russian oil wells were first dug by hand and petroleum in leather bags was hoisted by rope and pulley.

Are You Needlessly Suffering Constipation?
Many people think that constipation is "one of those things" you must put up with. That the only thing you can do is take a purge or cathartic—and hope it doesn't come soon again. How foolish that is if you, like millions of others, have the ordinary kind of constipation that's due to lack of "bulk" in the diet.
Kellogg's All-Bran is probably just what you need! This crisp, delicious cereal has the "bulk"-forming properties your intestines need to function "regularly"! It gets at the cause of your trouble and corrects it — helps you get back to normal, easy elimination. Eat All-Bran regularly, drink plenty of water, and help free yourself from constipation. All-Bran is made by Kellogg's in Battle Creek. If your condition is not helped by this simple treatment, it's wise to see a doctor.

Two Killed In Mine Collision

Windber, Pa., July 15 (AP)—The motorman and brakeman on a mine motor were killed yesterday in a collision with another motor in Mine 37 of the Berwind-White Coal company, Deputy Coroner Patrick McDermott reported.

McDermott identified the victims, both of Windber, as Lewis Holsberger, 27, the brakeman, and John Furda, Sr., 52, the motorman. He said they were operating a motor taking a string of empty coal cars down a deep grade in the mine and that a second motor with another string of empty cars crashed into them.

McDermott said he was advised the second motor and its string of cars ran away because a third motor in the rear had failed to make a coupling. He said he would await the report of State Mine Inspectors before holding an inquest.

Concert Organist Expires Tuesday

New York, July 15 (AP)—Charles Henry Doersam, 63, nationally known musician and concert organist, died of a heart attack yesterday at St. Luke's hospital. His home was in Palisade, N. J.

A native of Scranton, Pa., Doersam was head of the organ department at Columbia university for 22 years. He was a former organist and music director at churches in Scranton, Wilkes-Barre and Carbondale, Pa.

SENATOR URGES RUBBER AGENCY

Washington, July 15 (AP)— Senator Thomas (D-Okla) said today he would press the farm group campaign for an independent government rubber agency, despite Donald Nelson's opposition to it.

The same Senate agriculture subcommittee which heard testimony yesterday from the war production chief already has approved a bill sponsored by Senator Gillette (D-Iowa), Thomas and others calling for development of synthetic rubber from grain alcohol by an agency entirely apart from WPB's current synthetic program.

"We're going to press that bill to stress our idea that rubber should be made from the inexhaustible products of the soil, rather than from petroleum, which is an exhaustible resource," Thomas declared.

"We also can get rubber cheaper and quicker that way."

The bill introduced by Gillette, Thomas and others calls for creation of a rubber supply agency headed by a $10,000 a year presidentially appointed director. It would be the director's duty to provide "at the earliest possible time" an adequate supply of rubber and alcohol produced from agricultural products to meet both military and civilian needs.
